History of...

In 1907, a Philadelphia school teacher decided that a mild cold epidemic occurred because all the students used the same cloth towel. To give each student an individual towel, she cut paper into squares. These square sheets sparked the idea for paper towels, and later that year, Scott Paper Company introduced a perforated roll towel, Sani-Towels, to the commercial market.

San Jamar

A Simplicity Mechanical Handsfree Roll Towel Dispenser

Hygienic handsfree dispensing without batteries. No wait for a sensor—paper is always available. Portion control provides consistent dispensing of 11" sheets; automatic mechanical cutting. Dispenses most types of hand towel rolls. Holds roll up to 8" wide x 8" dia. and a stub roll. Break-resistant plastic. Black Pearl. 11.82w x 9.25d x 16.09h.

Invented by...

The Kimberly-Clark Corporation created the first facial tissue in 1924 and originally marketed it as a way to remove cold cream. A few years after the introduction of KLEENEX®, the company began receiving a large number of letters from customers suggesting its use for colds and hay fever. By the 1930s, KLEENEX® was being marketed with the slogan "Don't Carry a Cold in Your Pocket" and its utilization as a disposable handkerchief replacement became predominant.
